

BOOK LAUNCH

BOTSOTSO and THE BOOK LOUNGE have pleasure in inviting you to a launch of three new titles Botsotso 18, Botsotso 19 and Collected Plays.

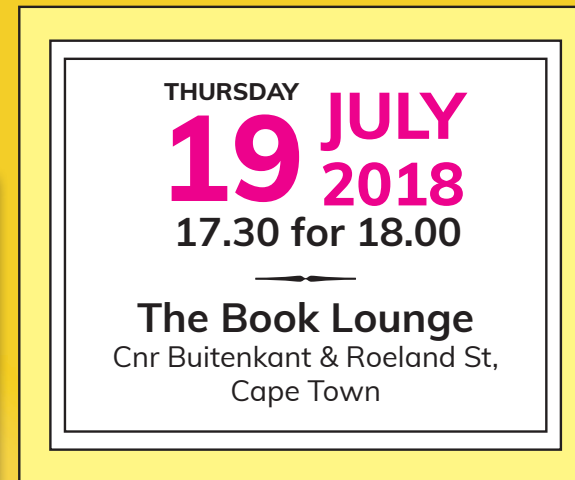

Botsotso, founded in 1994, is a literary collective that has to date published over thirty individual collections as well as anthologies in these genres. It is dedicated to the 'mix masala' of South African cultures as expressed in the work of newly emerging and established writers and specialises in combining visual images (photographs and drawings) with literary forms.

Botsotso 18
(‘Poetry from Private and Public Places’) features 68 poets writing in five different languages about the affairs of the heart, soul and stomach.

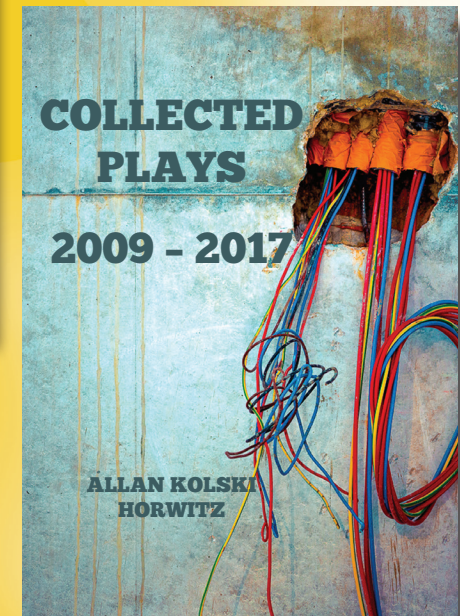

Botsotso 19
(‘True, False and Fantastical’) carries stories by 35 writers whose themes revolve around racism, poverty and various forms of violence as well as those that inspire love, beauty and wisdom.

Please join us for selected readings from these new publications and an opportunity to engage with the poets and writers.

Kindly RSVP booklounge@gmail.com or 021 462 2425.

BOOK LOUNGE

Collected Plays
2009-2017 of Allan Kolski Horwitz contains five plays that explore the contradictions and dreams of the new and old South Africa as well as universal themes that include the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and other moral dilemmas.
